

Deborah Williams Bio

Deborah's personal life-long participation in successful financial strategies and decision-making gives her a strong frame of reference for personal financial planning and investment management.

She has been providing investment management and financial services to individuals and businesses in Texas, as well as many other states, for over 15 years. She currently has her own financial planning and investment management practice in downtown Houston, with a robust and growing client base in Clear Lake.

Now a "naturalized" Texan, she completed both her Bachelor's degree in Public Administration, and her Master's degree course work in Mathematics at the University of Houston-Clear Lake. Deborah's commitment to the university continued through her work with the Alumni Association, and The Alumni Association Endowment Fund, providing scholarships for new and returning students at the university.

Professionally, she holds the distinguished certification of a CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™. She has also been certified as a Divorce Financial Analyst, and has been published in the Houston Business Journal. In addition, Deborah is a Member of the Financial Planning Association and the Houston Estate and Financial Forum. As part of Greenbriar Financial, their firm has been named one of 2017's Top Ten Best Financial Advisors in Houston, by AdvisoryHQ.

A dedicated Mom to 4 sons and "Nana" to 7 grandsons, Deborah is also a Houston Marathon finisher, an outdoor enthusiast, an aspiring artist and blogger. She is also an enthusiastic community volunteer. For relaxation, Deborah and her husband John spend time at their vacation home on Lake Livingston where they enjoy boating, fishing, socializing and "porch sitting".
